RECOMMENDATION OF THE MAGISTRATE JUDGE

Jacky Allen Rogers, Jr., an indigent inmate, initiated this 42 U.S.C. § 1983 action on November 29, 2017. In this civil action, Rogers challenges the medical treatment provided to him for injuries suffered in a fall while confined at the Houston County Jail.

The order of procedure entered on December 5, 2017 instructed Rogers to immediately inform the court of any new address. Doc. 4 at 4, ¶7 (“The plaintiff shall immediately inform the court and the defendant or, if counsel has appeared on behalf of the defendant, counsel of record of any change in his address. Failure to provide a correct address to this court within ten (10) days following any change of address will result in the dismissal of this action.”). The docket indicates Rogers received a copy of this order. However, the postal service returned as undeliverable an order entered on February 16, 2018 (Doc. 7) because Rogers no longer resided at the last address he had provided to the court.

Based on the foregoing, the court entered an order requiring Rogers to inform the court of his current address on or before March 12, 2018. Doc. 8 at 1. This order directed Rogers to “show cause why this case should not be dismissed for his failure to comply with the orders of this court and his failure to adequately prosecute this action.” Doc. 8 at 1. The court “specifically cautioned [Rogers] that if he fails to respond to this order the Magistrate Judge will recommend that this case be dismissed.” Doc. 8 at 1. As of the present date, Rogers has failed to provide the court with his current address pursuant to the directives of the orders entered in this case. The court therefore concludes that this case should be dismissed.

The court has reviewed the file to determine whether a less drastic measure than dismissal is appropriate. See Abreu-Velez v. Board of Regents of Univ. System of Georgia, 248 F. App’x 116, 117–18 (11th Cir. 2007). After such review, the court finds that dismissal of this case is the proper course of action. Initially, the court notes that Rogers is an indigent individual and the imposition of monetary or other punitive sanctions against him would be ineffectual. Moreover, Rogers has failed to comply with the directives of the orders entered by this court regarding provision of a current address. It likewise appears that Rogers is simply no longer interested in the prosecution of this case and any additional effort to secure his compliance would be unavailing and a waste of this court’s scarce resources.

Accordingly, the court concludes that Rogers’ failure to comply with the orders of this court warrant dismissal of this case. Moon v. Newsome, 863 F.2d 835, 837 (11th Cir. 1989) (holding that, as a general rule, where a litigant has been forewarned, dismissal for failure to obey a court order is not an abuse of discretion.). The authority of courts to impose sanctions for failure to prosecute or obey an order is longstanding and acknowledged by Rule 41(b) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. See Link v. Wabash R.R. Co., 370 U.S. 626, 629–30 (1962). “The district court possesses the inherent power to police its docket.” Mingo v. Sugar Cane Growers Co-Op of Fla., 864 F.2d 101, 102 (11th Cir. 1989). This authority empowers the courts “to manage their own affairs so as to achieve the orderly and expeditious disposition of cases.” Link, 370 U.S. at 630–31. “The sanctions imposed [upon dilatory litigants] can range from a simple reprimand to an order dismissing the action with or without prejudice.” Mingo, 864 F.2d at 102.

For the above stated reasons, it is the RECOMMENDATION of the Magistrate Judge that this case be dismissed without prejudice.

On or before March 29, 2018, the parties may file objections to the Recommendation. A party must specifically identify the factual findings and legal conclusions in the Recommendation to which the objection is made. Frivolous, conclusive, or general objections to the Recommendation will not be considered.

Failure to file written objections to the Magistrate Judge’s findings and recommendations in accordance with the provisions of 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1) shall bar a party from a de novo determination by the District Court of legal and factual issues covered in the Recommendation and waives the right of the party to challenge on appeal the District Court’s order based on unobjected-to factual and legal conclusions accepted or adopted by the District Court except upon grounds of plain error or manifest injustice.

11TH Cir. R. 3-1; see Resolution Trust Co. v. Hallmark Builders, Inc., 996 F.2d 1144, 1149 (11th Cir. 1993); Henley v. Johnson, 885 F.2d 790, 794 (11th Cir. 1989).

DONE this 15th day of March, 2018.
